     Wrong Answer: -5 points

Outcome:

The quiz was a resounding success, effectively promoting technical learning and engagement among students. Participants not only gained valuable experience in competitive quizzing but also significantly improved their understanding of key technical concepts. The event fostered a strong sense of camaraderie and teamwork among the participants, creating a positive and collaborative learning environment. Furthermore, the quiz provided an excellent opportunity for the CSI committee to connect with the student body and effectively promote its activities.

Buzzer Round

Attendance and Feedback :

Feedback from participants was largely positive, with many appreciating the challenging and engaging nature of the quiz. Some participants suggested including more practical or application-based questions in future quizzes, while a few others suggested increasing the prize money or offering other incentives to attract more participation.
